CRM Software

The Directorate of Social Justice requires a CRM software that can streamline case management, enable multi-channel communication, and integrate telephony features such as call connectivity, recording, and forwarding to relevant departments.